4. What this information means?

A deductible must be satisfied before the insurance company will pay for therapy treatment. Submit all bills to help reach the deductible amount. • If you have an office visit co-pay the insurance company will subtract that amount from the percentage they will pay. This will affect the amount of reimbursement you will receive.

The reimbursement percentage will be based on your insurance company's established "reasonable and customary/fair price" for the services rendered. This price will not necessarily match the charges billed; some may be less while others may be more. If your policy requires a prescription or referral from your PCP you must obtain one to send in with the claim. This is usually not difficult to obtain if your PCP sent you to a specialist for help with your condition. If the referral from a MD or specialist is all you need, make sure to have a copy to include with your claim. Each time you receive an updated referral you'll need to include with the claim.

If your policy requires pre-authorization or a referral on file and the insurance company doesn't have one listed yet, you'll need to call the referral coordinator at your PCP's office and ask them to file a referral file a referral for your physical therapy treatment that is dated to cover your first physical therapy visit. Be aware that referrals and pre-authorizations have an expiration date and some set a visit limit. If you are approaching the expiration date or visit limit you'll need the referral coordinator to submit a request for more treatment.

This worksheet was created to assist you in obtaining reimbursement for Physical Therapy services and is not a guarantee of reimbursement to you.
